Ingle records show the J.D. Cross tokens were shipped to him at Texico, NM, and perhaps used there. However numerous tokens have shown up near the area of Granbury, Texas, some of them counterstamped with a numeral 2. J.D. Cross is also listed as a grocer in Granbury, Texas from 1897 to 1915. Therefore, though it may not be popular, I will list the Cross tokens as Granbury, Texas

Dug at Haslam mill site in the Negro section. Fishman`s was a black pool hall owned by a Jew who is buried in the Negro grave yard. About 20 of the Fishman tokens have been dug that I know of. Haslam also had another Negro pool hall, Ivory & Johnson also located in the Negro section of Haslam. These owners were black. One token dug at the pool hall site. These two pool halls were in operation when Pickering owned the mill. Not when Garrett owned the mill.

B R 24

As a note, the Sweetwater, Texas is a "historical attribution" on the W.C.J. token. Mr. Leo Warren of San Antonio, told me this token was from Sweetwater back about 1978. The steer on mound facing left, is the identical same die/steer as the Doans, Texas, Cow Boy Saloon token. It is also the same steer as the Long Branch Saloon token from Dodge City, Kansas. - J. Adams Fowler notes in 1993 that this is reported to be the token of W.C. Johnson who is listed as a Sweetwater saloon in 1888 Dun; rare
